FACULTY

Administration

Mr. Jack L. Larsen
A.B., Iowa State Teachers College
M.A., University of Minnesota

The students, administration, and faculty welcomed Mr. Jack Larsen for his first year as Principal of St. Joseph Senior High School this year. We soon discovered that it was our good fortune to have acquired not only an administrator but also an eloquent spokesman for education. His scholarly leadership is both flattering and challenging, for, as does the poet Whitman, he suggests a direction

"Leaving it to you to prove and define it, Expecting the main things from you."

Mr. Earl H. Place
A.B., Hillsdale College
M.A., University of Michigan

After eleven years as Superintendent of St. Joseph Public Schools, Mr. Place, in his calm, capable manner, continues working to improve the fine educational system which he has done so much to build. He believes firmly in the need for a strong bond between the schools of St. Joseph and the community they serve, and he works enthusiastically and tirelessly to bring about better understanding and cooperation between the two.

Mr. August Van Eerden
A.B., Hope College
M.A., University of Michigan

Mr. Van Eerden's realm is the expenditures and receipts of the St. Joseph School system. As Business Manager, he pays the bills and makes the purchases of items from the chairs we sit in to the hot lunches we eat. Mindful of the enormous difficulties inherent in his job, we can well imagine his watchword: All hail the balanced budget and turn out the lights!

Board of Education

The members of St. Joseph's active Board of Education are, seated: Milo M. Sprunger, vice-president; Collins F. Gillespie, president; Robert W. Strauss, secretary; Donald Weiland, treasurer; standing: R. Thomas Herkner, trustee; Superintendent Earl H. Place; Robert C. Upton, trustee; and Dean K. Ray, trustee.

Counselors

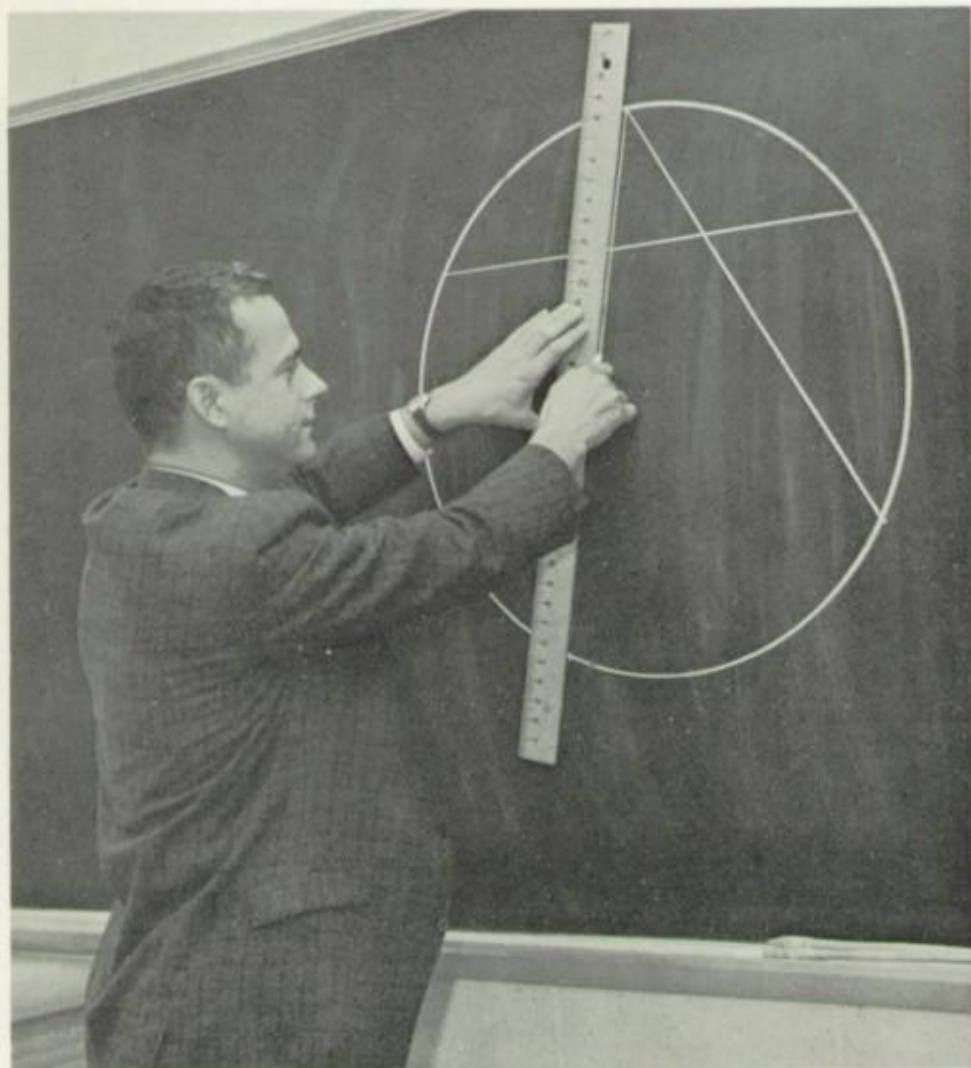

Playing a vital role in the school career of each student at St. Joseph Senior High are Mr. Donald F. Blunt, senior class counselor; Miss Dorothy Dunbar, junior class counselor; Mr. Adrian D. Davis, sophomore class counselor; and Mr. Joseph Ropele, Chairman of the Counseling staff.

Secretaries

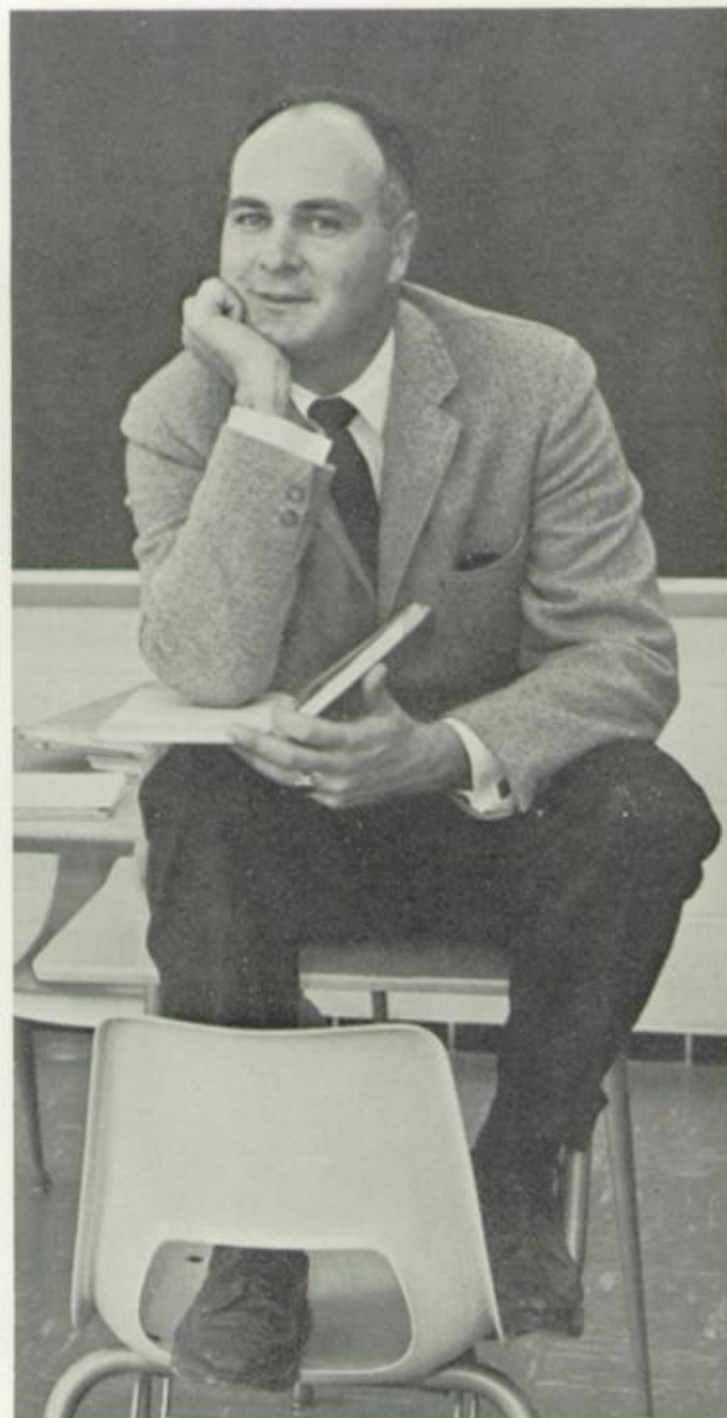

Responsible for an untold number of details connected with the smooth running of the school are our secretaries, Miss Sandra Leitow, Clerk; Mrs. Virginia Holeman, secretary to Mr. Place and the Board of Education; Mrs. Ruth Schell, secretary to Mr. Larsen; Mrs. Waunita Wetter, secretary to Mr. Van Eerden; and Mrs. Kathryn Welsh, secretary to Mr. Larsen.

Mathematics

Mr. James N. Heathcote
B.S., Western Michigan University
M.A., Northwestern University

As adviser to the Student Council, Mr. Heathcote is active not only in guiding student "affairs of state," but also in producing two of the year's special events, the Winter Wonderland Dance and the Variety Show. During the school day, Mr. Heathcote may be found, compass in hand, teaching his plane geometry and second year algebra classes.

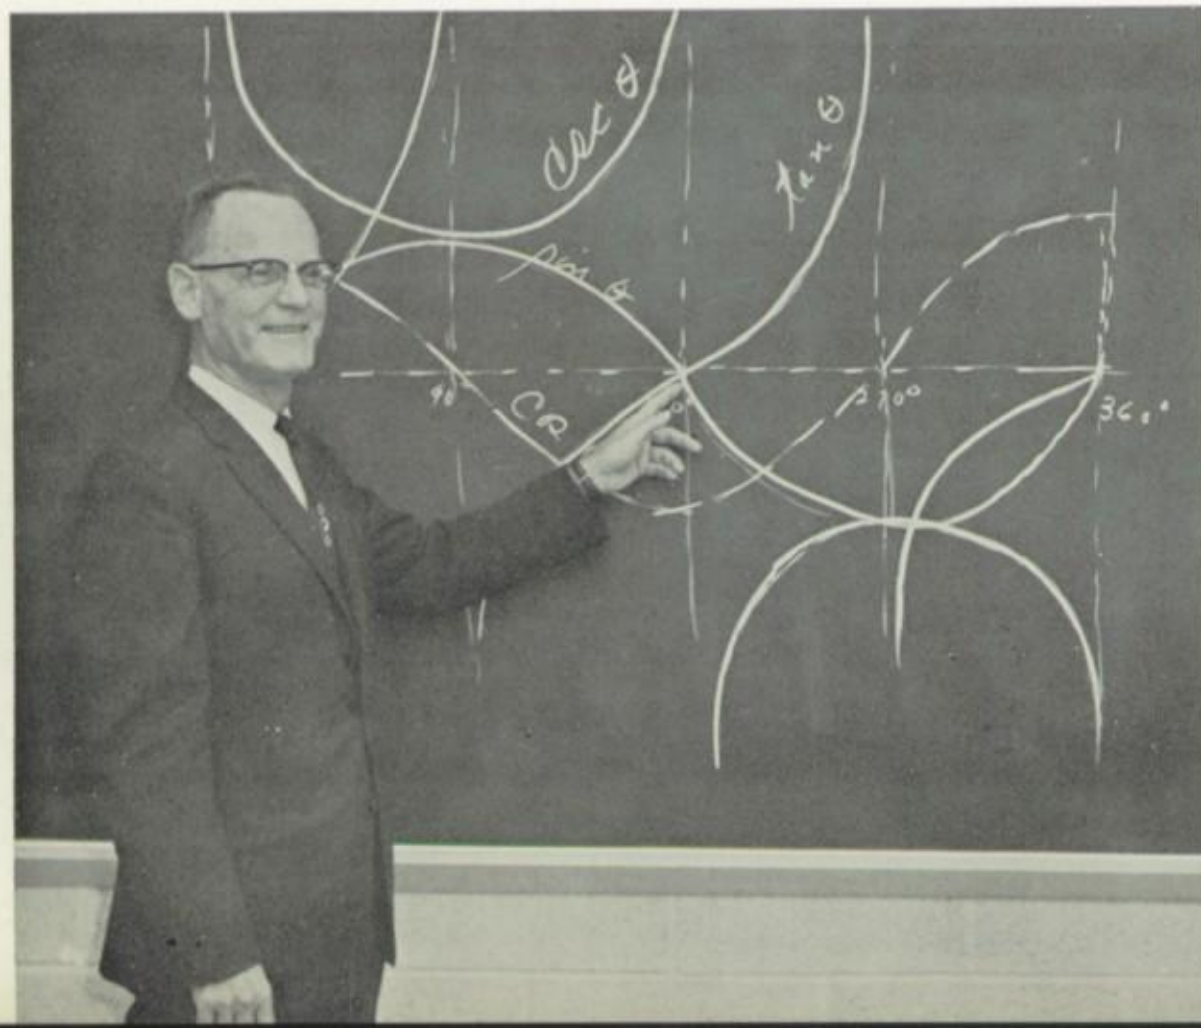

Mr. Richard Higgs
A.B., Hope College
M.A., Western Michigan University

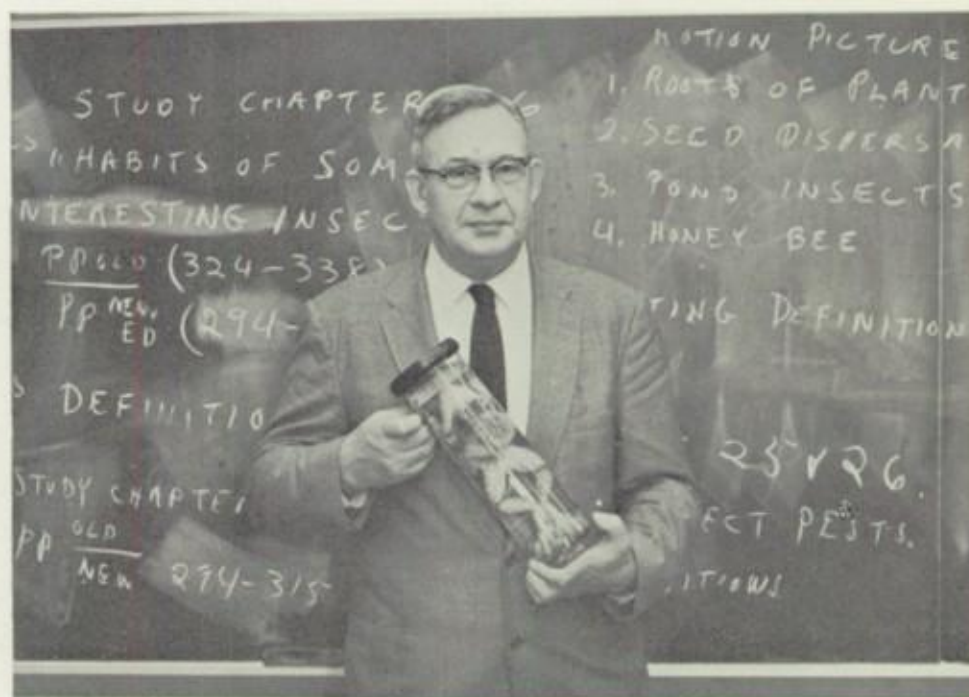

Good-natured and easy to talk with, Mr. Higgs teaches plane geometry and coaches varsity football. This year, his math class was occasionally treated to explanations of the fine points of football, while his football team achieved its finest record in the history of St. Joseph High School.

Mr. Louis J. Free
B.S., B.A., (Ed.), Dayton University
M.A., (Ed.), University of Chicago
M.S., DePaul University

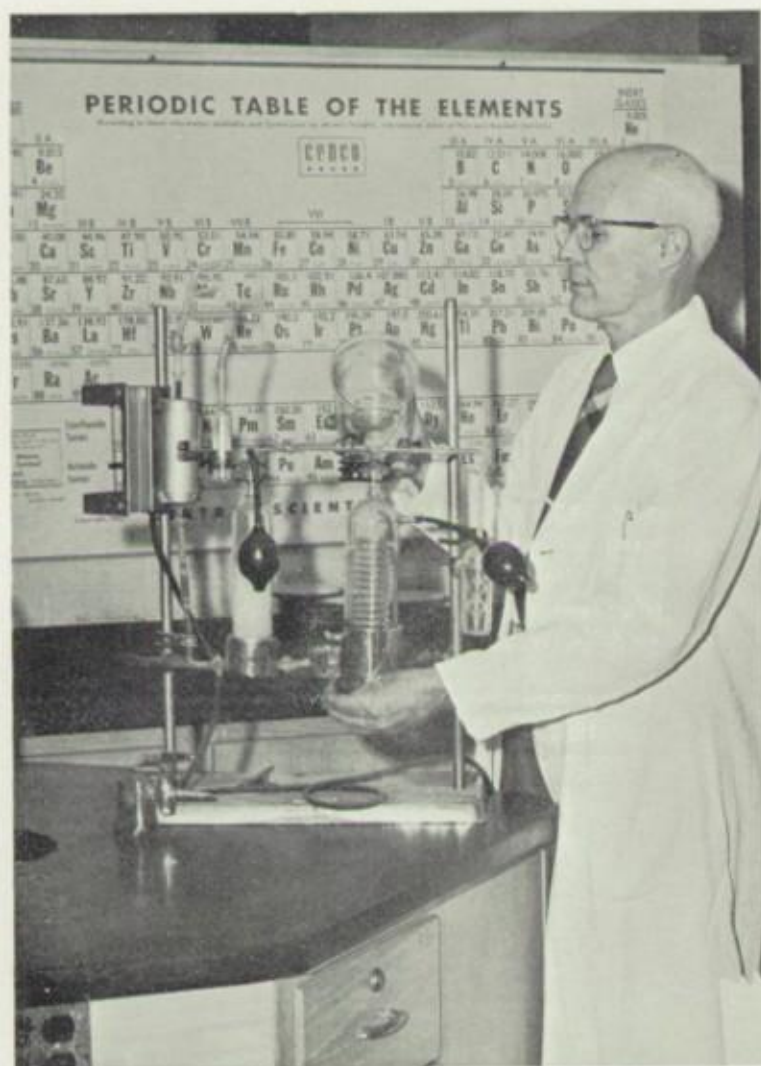

With enthusiasm and a subtle humor, Mr. Free guides his students toward standards of excellence in solid geometry, trigonometry, and second year algebra. Mr. Free's dedication to teaching and belief in the capabilities of high school students led him to develop, in 1958, a course in math analysis, one of the first of its kind in the country. The course deals with recent advances in mathematics and gives students a working knowledge of the principles basic to college math.

Science

Mr. Frederick C. Greene
B.A., Western Michigan University
M.A., University of Michigan
St. Joseph High School's biology instructor is Mr. Greene, a man who thoroughly enjoys teaching. His comprehensive course offers students the opportunity to learn about everything from amoeba to zebra.

Mr. William C. Larkin
B.S., University of Chicago
M.A., Michigan State University

Mr. Larkin, who teaches chemistry and senior science, has a liking for the "magic" of chemistry which is contagious. He advises the science club and, every spring, takes to the outdoors to coach the tennis team.

Mr. John Brittan
B.S., North Central College
M.A., Andrews University

A teacher of biology, physics, and senior science, Mr. Brittan conducts his classes in an easy, relaxed manner. He is the proud inventor of a test-checking machine, which enables him to correct his physics exams in record time.

English

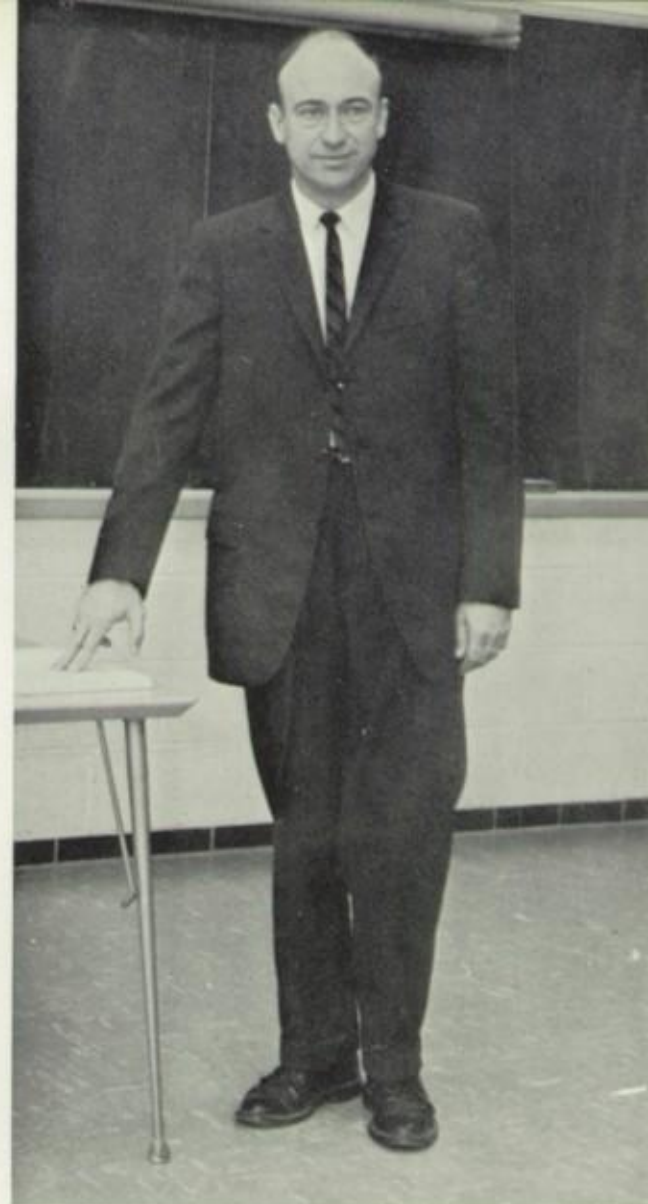

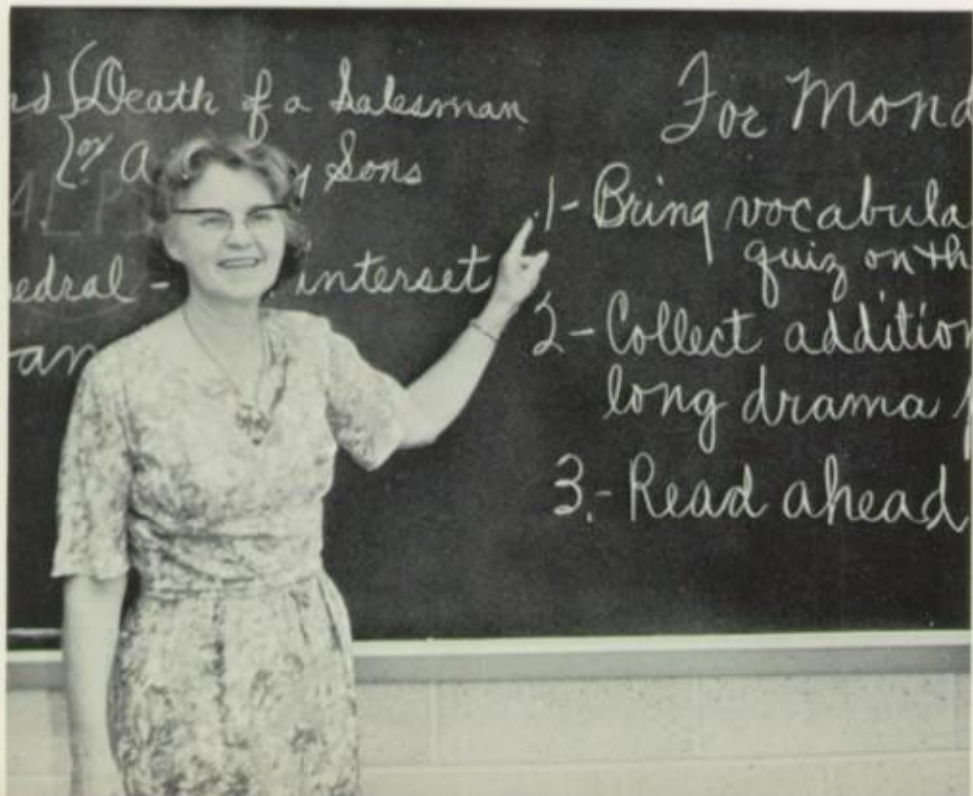

Mrs. June Muchmore
B.S., Miami University

With kindness and an even temper, Mrs. Muchmore helps her students in junior English and in reading improvement to acquire the skills and the insight necessary for a better understanding of what they read.

Miss Mildred Webster
A.B., Jamestown University
M.A., University of North Dakota

A scintillating sense of humor and an original, effective approach are but two of the characteristics which Miss Webster brings to her teaching of senior English.

Mr. Roy Davis
B.S., M.A., Western Michigan University

Mr. Davis encourages his students in junior and senior English to think and to appreciate literature. In addition to his teaching, Mr. Davis enjoys aviation and is a licensed pilot.

Mr. Calvin Rich
B.A., Ball State Teachers College

Because he does not have a classroom of his own, Mr. Rich may often be seen going from one room to another to teach his classes of sophomore and junior English. In his firm, soft-spoken manner, this new member of the English staff helps students to develop a genuine interest in learning and the ability to read and write more thoughtfully.

Mrs. Marguerite Tibbitts
A.B., Western Michigan University

A spirited and cheerful woman, Mrs. Tibbitts urges the students in her sophomore English classes to learn not only language and literature but good study habits as well.

Mrs. Miriam Pede
B.A., Albion College
M.A., Teachers College,
Columbia University

Mrs. Pede, who teaches sophomore English, is always good-natured. Studying becomes much more enjoyable when her cheery smile brightens the classroom.

Speech

Miss Betty Theisen
Ph.B., Siena Heights College
M.A., University of Michigan

A teacher of many talents and abundant energy, Miss Theisen has classes in public speaking and shorthand, directs the Senior Play, and advises a very active dramatics club, the Thespians.

Miss Shirley Swarthout
B.S., Ithaca College
M.A., Michigan State
University

A new member of our faculty, Miss Swarthout is adviser for the annual staff. She teaches classes in practical and public speaking as well as junior English. This quiet and easygoing person comes to us from New York State.

Social

Mr. John H. Pegram
A.B., Central Michigan University

A man of varied interests, Mr. Pegram teaches World History and junior English, which were his major fields of study in college. He is also adviser to the debate team and director of the Junior Play.

Mr. Willis Koontz
B.S., Ball State Teachers College

M.A., University of Michigan

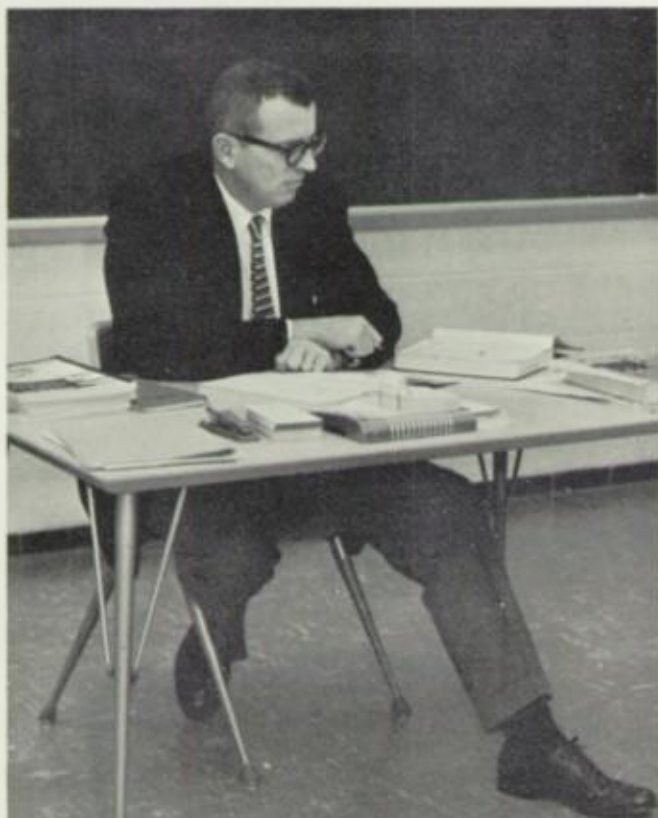

Mr. Koontz's comprehensive and conservative approach to learning provides a very useful background in United States History and earns the respect and admiration of his students.

Mr. Joseph Ropele
A.B., Loras College
M.A., Michigan State University

To accomplish his purpose of helping students to gain more from their education, Mr. Ropele utilizes a wide variety of tests and testing techniques. St. Joseph's Counseling director also teaches a course in Commercial Law.

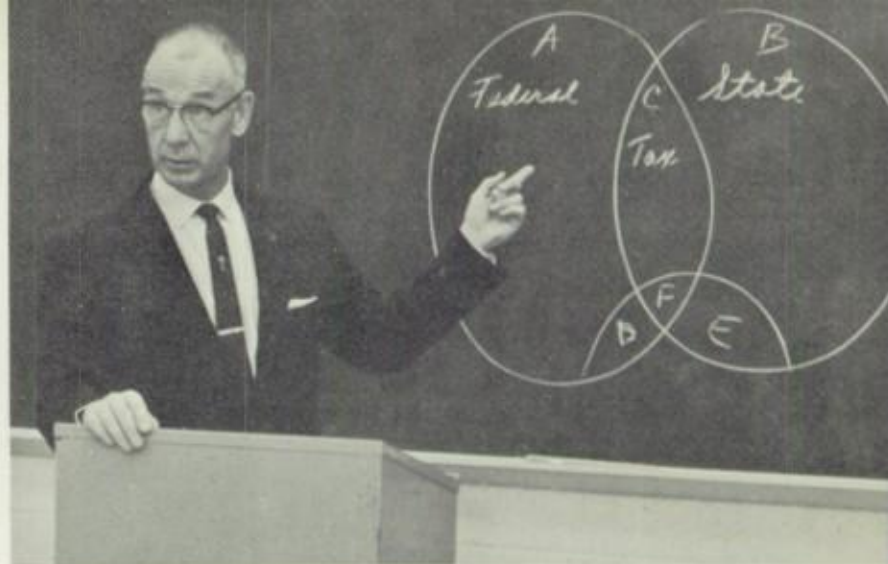

Science

Mr. John J. Buursma
B.A., Hope College
M.A., Western Michigan University
With high good humor and conscientious application of practical teaching methods, Mr. Buursma directs his World History students to scholarship.

Mr. James Clark
B.A., Western Michigan University
A man of many stories and experiences, Mr. Clark teaches sociology and government to seniors. He continues to further his own education by taking graduate work at U.C.L.A. In addition to his classroom teaching, Mr. Clark is responsible for developing the potential of our school's wrestling team.

Mr. Donald F. Blunt
A.B., University of Nebraska
M.A., University of Michigan
As a government teacher with his own brand of lucidity, Mr. Blunt guides his students through the intricate maze of political structure and international relations. As a guidance counselor, he helps the seniors learn to govern their futures in a way suitable to their talents and aspirations.

Mr. Adrian D. Davis
B.A., Adrian College
M.A., University of Michigan
Mr. Davis's varied and thought-provoking approach to United States History gives his students a fine opportunity to understand our nation's development. His kindness and understanding of student's problems help the sophomores adjust easily to senior high school life.

Mr. Franklin Schnese
B.S., M.A., Western Michigan University
By energetic forays into economics and government with his senior classes and United States History with his juniors, Mr. Schnese leads his students to high-spirited accomplishments. Happily, his coaching of the baseball team is just as successful.

Languages

Mrs. Naomi Cox
B.S., M.A., Miami University

Being one who seeks perfection, Mrs. Cox tries to encourage each student in her first year Spanish class and four year French courses to do the best job possible. For being precise and going by the rules, Mrs. Cox is highly respected by her students.

Mr. Karl Benson
B.A., M.A., University of Michigan

Besides teaching second and third year Spanish, Mr. Benson teaches journalism and is adviser to the Wind-Up staff and the Spanish Club. Because Mr. Benson is a fun-loving man who knows a little about everything, his classes are a pleasure to attend.

Miss Margaret Robb
A.B., Geneva College
M.A., Oberlin College

Miss Robb uses her intellect and her sense of humor to their fullest extent in her classes of second, third, and fourth year Latin. Well loved by all who know her, Miss Robb makes it fun to learn Latin.

Business Education

Mr. Jerome Radenbaugh
B.S., Western Michigan
University

Mr. Radenbaugh, a new member of the St. Joseph High School faculty, formerly taught commercial courses at Romulus High in Detroit. Mr. Radenbaugh's good nature has won the respect of all his students. At present, he is working on his M.B.A. degree at the University of Michigan.

Miss Dorothy W. Dunbar
B.S. (Ed.), Wisconsin State
Teachers College

With a cheerful, even temper, and quiet precision, Miss Dunbar teaches typing and transcription, fulfills the demanding role of junior class counselor, and carries out the duties of adviser to the Honor Society.

Mrs. Bonnie Boldt
A.A., Benton Harbor Community
College and Technical Institute
B.S., Western Michigan University
M.A., Michigan State University

Both typing and bookkeeping are very capably taught by Mrs. Boldt, who is another new member of the high school faculty this year. A quiet perfectionist, Mrs. Boldt encourages her students to do their finest.

Miss Ruth E. Reed
A.B., University of Nebraska
M.A., University of Denver

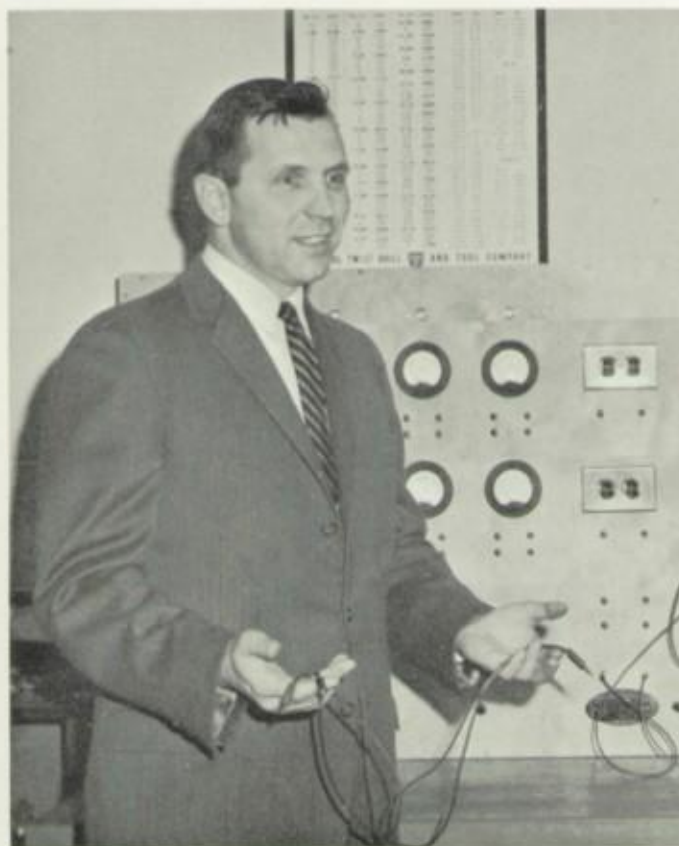

Miss Reed is a versatile teacher who guides her classes in office practice, bookkeeping, and commercial geography with tolerance and a businesslike efficiency.

Home and Industrial Arts

Mrs. Evelyn Peffers
B.S., Michigan State
University

Although a new member of the senior high school faculty this year, Mrs. Peffers is no stranger to St. Joseph, for she taught last year at the junior high. In addition to her courses in foods and clothing, Mrs. Peffers teaches one class in senior science.

Mr. Orvid Harju
B.S., Eastern Michigan University
M.S., University of Michigan

A very fair and tolerant person, Mr. Harju teaches the industrial arts courses in shop mathematics, power mechanics, and electricity.

Mrs. Phyllis Schneider
B.S., M.A., Ball State
Teachers College

Enjoying her third year at St. Joseph High, Mrs. Schneider teaches home and family living, and second and third year clothing. Her students gain knowledge and develop skills of great practical value.

Mr. Frederick Harrsen
B.S., Western Michigan University
M.S., Michigan State University

Easy to know and work with, Mr. Harrsen teaches courses in mechanical, architectural, and engineering drawing. He also assists the juniors with their magazine sales campaign.

Mr. George L. Benton
B.S., Central Michigan
University
M.A., University of Michigan

Mr. Benton, a contractor during the summer months, brings to his classes in wood shop and shop math a comprehensive knowledge based on practical experience as well as academic study.

Mr. Webster Durfee
B.S., Central Michigan
University

In his general metals and machine shop classes, Mr. Durfee teaches his students responsibility and safety as well as the ability to be good craftsmen.

Music and Art

Mr. Frederick Erbach
B.S., Milwaukee State Teachers College
M.M., Northwestern University

Mr. Erbach, who teaches orchestra at the senior high, also teaches music in the grade schools. He provides his students with valuable training and experience in the musical arts and they, in turn, provide St. Joseph with an unusually accomplished orchestra.

Mr. Dennis Bowen
B.M.E., Northwestern University

After teaching vocal music each morning in the grade schools, Mr. Bowen returns to the high school in the afternoons to direct the chorus, the choir, and the recently organized Choraliers. Our new Alma Mater, composed especially for the senior high by Mr. Bowen, received an enthusiastic welcome when it was introduced to the student body this year.

Mrs. Betty Bingham
B.S., Hillsdale College

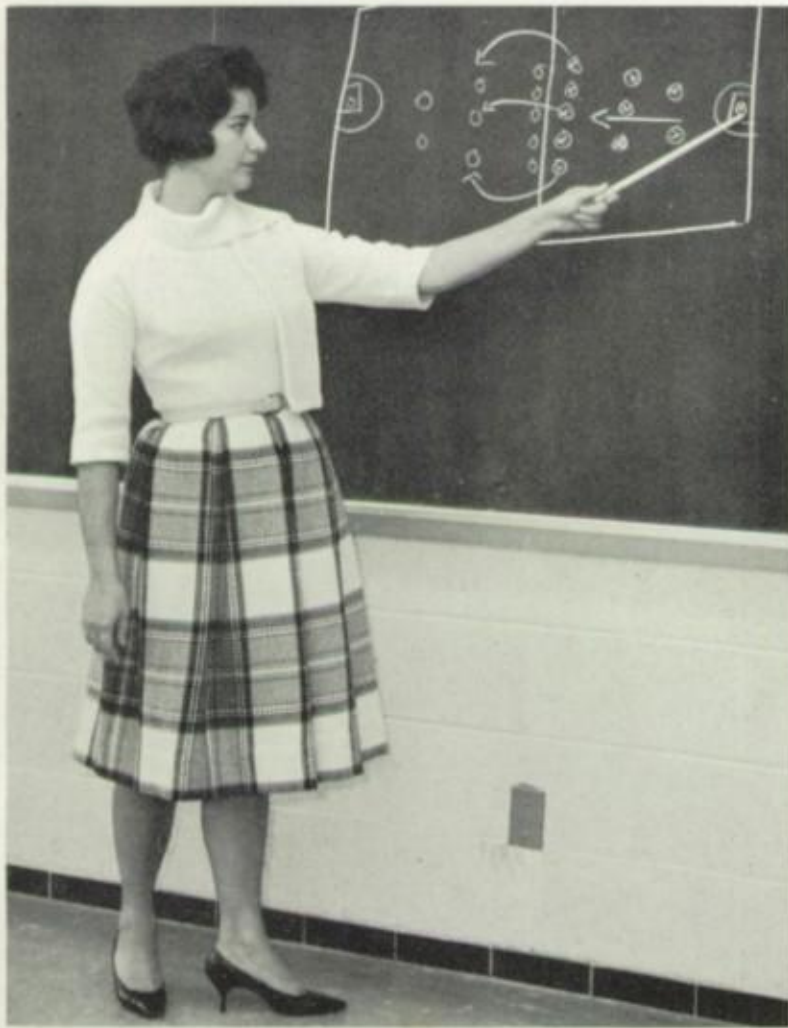

With a cheerful, lively interest Mrs. Bingham encourages her students to express themselves through art and, perhaps more importantly, gives them a thorough knowledge of the techniques they need in order to do so. The success of her efforts is evident in the displays of student art work shown each year.

Mr. John Howard
B.M., M.M., University of Michigan

Mr. Howard, band director at the high school, also teaches instrumental music in the grade schools. He prepares his band members equally well for complicated formations at football games and for concert performances such as the annual 7:60 Show.

Physical Education

Mrs. Ruth Steinke
B.S., University of Michigan

A new member of the senior high faculty this year, Mrs. Steinke was active not only in teaching girls' physical education but also in coaching the cheerleaders and advising the modern dance club. The half-time performance of her dance club members in a Charleston, complete with costumes of the roaring 20's, was one of the highlights of this year's football season.

Mr. Ray Haack
B.S., Central Michigan University

In addition to his classes in boys' physical education, Mr. Haack was responsible for the fine performance of the senior high basketball team this year. His tireless efforts, his good humor, and his determination to uphold the principles of good sportsmanship have won for him and for his athletes the respect of schools throughout the state.

Mr. John Watson

Mr. Watson spends many hours checking students for hearing losses. He's very happy with a new portable testing device which the school has purchased. Students with hearing difficulties find him capable and understanding.

Mr. John Schuneman

Mr. Schuneman helps students who have speech problems overcome many technical difficulties. Perhaps more important is the confidence he instills in them by showing the accomplishments of which they are capable.

Health Service

Mrs. Lois Richards
R.N., B.S., University of Michigan

Cheery and quietly efficient in handling the myriad details of her work, Mrs. Richards is St. Joseph's school nurse. Her skill in the ways of medicine and her perceptive understanding of people have become a valued part of our school life. Mrs. Richards is also responsible for the activities of our Future Nurses Club.

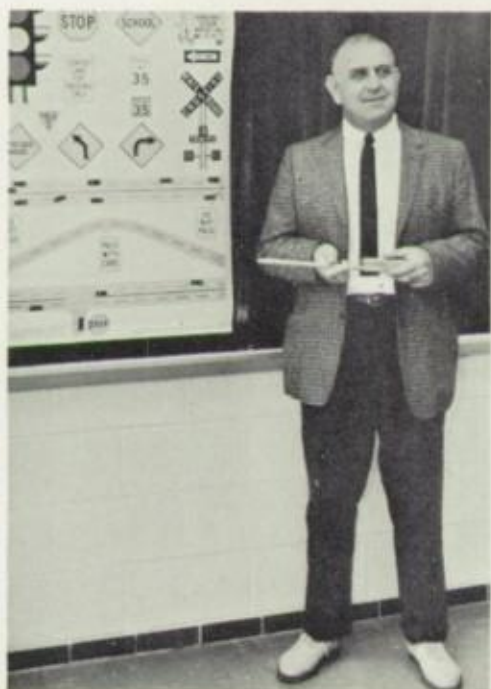

Special Teachers

Mrs. Marlene Thayer

B.A., B.S. (Ed.), M.A., Kent State University

Our new librarian, Mrs. Thayer, comes to St. Joseph with extensive training and experience in library science. She is dedicated to putting our library in excellent condition and to helping students use the resources available to them. This fall, under her direction, the Library Club sponsored a very successful exhibit of student art work.

Mr. Arnold M. Karsten

B.S., Northwestern University

Mr. Karsten divides his time between directing the senior high athletic program and instructing drivers' education. As a teacher, Mr. Karsten prepares his students to accept the responsibilities demanded of good drivers. As athletic director, he coordinates and supervises all sports activities at the high school and schedules our athletic contests with other schools.

Mr. Ben Standen, Mr. Frank Lowery, and Mr. Lawrence Heckathorne work closely with the industrial arts department of our school. Mr. Lowery is the Director of Vocational Training; Mr. Standen works as the Apprentice Coordinator for Education and Industry; and Mr. Heckathorne directs the School and Industry Cooperative Training Program.

So lonesome?

I'm your new principal.

Twisting became "the thing" at our after game dances as shown by Dave Davis and Suzi Long.

At one of our pep meetings, in a basketball game between the Hi-Y and the faculty, Mr. Haack went up in the air to catch a pass from a team mate.

Highlights

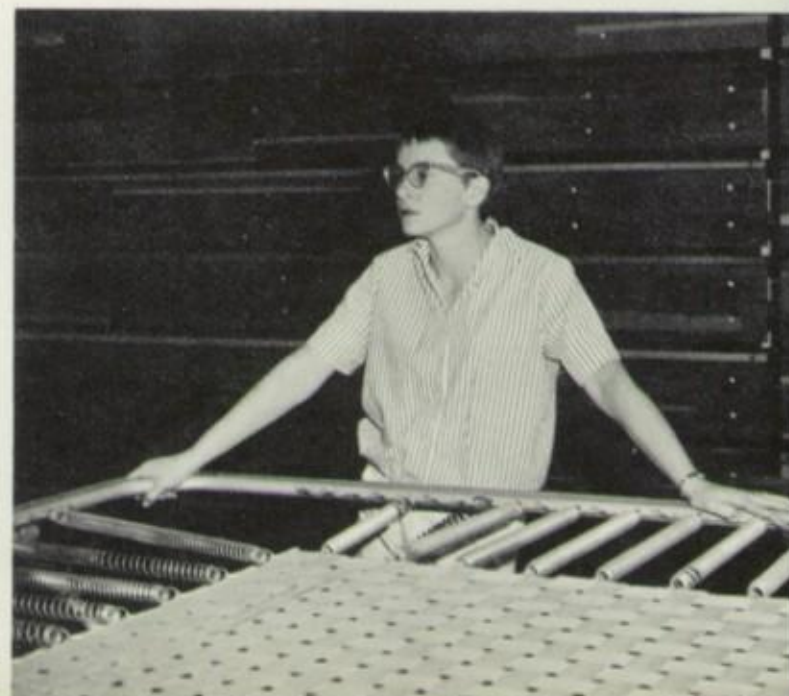

An added addition to our "clubs" this year was the infamous Write-In Party. Seated are Jim Deckard, Bob Mielke, and Dave Davis. Standing are Tom Fette, Bill Fette, Ryan Fowler, Chip Adams, Bob Brown, Dave Splese, Julie Irgens, John Tafilowski, and John Dwan.

This year St. Joseph High School was fortunate enough to have four exchange students. These students are, left to right: Jutta Henrici (Germany), Ingrid Porttner (Germany), Bridgette Cabban (England). In the back is Gerhard Teufel (Germany).

With the change of the semester came a change in our phys. ed. department. Returning to St. Joseph High School was Mrs. Carol Howard. She had previously taught here during the 1959-60 school year.

Choraliers, a new group this year, is open by audition to anyone in the school. They have replaced the Madrigal Singers and sing popular music. The Choraliers rehearse on Monday nights, preparing for engagements such as Lions and Kiwanis Club luncheons.

Practice makes perfect?

Motto:

Play first, then work.

Director John Howard toasts the band after the annual 7:60 Show.

Though most school activities ceased the band marched on through the summer, practicing weekly.

The Pep Band enlivens Pep meetings and home games.

One duty of the Executive Board is selecting band scholarship winners.

President Bob Brown doubled as center on the football team and as section leader in the band.

Nine members of the St. Joe Hi-Y spent two days and two nights at Lansing at the Youth Legislature. This was a model of the Michigan Legislature. Actual laws were passed and others rejected. The Michigan Con-Con was also visited. It proved to be an educational, inspiring, and sleepless experience.

Who ever said that Hi-Y didn't have the ugliest men?

Mazenblue Staff

Co-editor Mary Blankenburg spent much of her time in proof reading.

The Senior committee worked hard arranging activity sheets.

Under the direction of Judy Gephart the Sports committee sized seemingly endless negatives.

Scheduling group pictures was one of the most difficult tasks facing the Clubs committee
